

What to Watch for – Diabetes

The symptoms of juvenile diabetes may occur suddenly, and include:

- Frequent urination
- Increased thirst
- Extreme hunger
- Unexplained weight loss
- Extreme weakness and fatigue
- Urinating at night
- Blurred vision
- Numbness or tingling in the hands or feet
- Heavy or labored breathing
- Drowsiness or lethargy
- Fruity odor on the breath

A child with the above symptoms must be seen by a physician as soon as possible.
